

I am a strong believer in Wisconsin's No Call List and do not want it tampered with. It is high time the federal government let the states run their own business. The good people of this state have spoken. We do not need politicians from far off to tell us how to handle our problems.